Cognizant

Programmer Analyst, March 2016 – October 2018

- Worked in a migration project (DB2 to Oracle)
- The Project's purpose is to analyse various .NET applications (Service, Web, Batch) if those were using the BDW database in any form and to rewrite/modify the application logic so that it points to the migrated Oracle Exa database.
- Also, the project solution's include unit test project for checking functionalities of each method which are implementing the queries to check whether they are passing correctly while connecting to migrated Oracle Database.
- Previously worked in WIN 10 UI Migration project
- The project's main purpose was migrating total twenty-two web applications based on .Net framework, from Windows7 (IE11) to Windows10 (IE11) environment, phase wise. Also, the expectation was rendering all the applications without any UI issues and misalignments. The challenge was setting up applications in Windows10, as there are some framework dependencies. 6. Above all successfully able to set up all the applications in both Windows7 and Windows10.
